

WADIA Nasrallah

	age	35
	location	Ammán, Jordania
	occupation	Pharmacist
	income	Income per year 35k
	status	Divorced

Wadia loves writing about human rights and social issues on her blog. She works in medical research and recently she started teaching masterclasses at the University of Ammán. She is concerned about social and environmental problems and she enjoys discussing them with her friends and colleagues.

GOALS

Publish her research thesis
Reinvent herself

PERSONAL TRAITS

Optimistic Meticulous Persistent Fair

FRUSTRATIONS

Not having a garden where grow her own vegetables
Not having enough time for spend with her friends.

Wadia knows commūnitās though her neighbourhood library. She has begun a project in order to bring together people interested in growing an urban orchard. Apart from growing their own food, this common space would be a key incentive to increase the quality of their social relationships with neighbours and friends, thus they would boost the community feeling. Through the app they would be able to set up the access to the plot and bring enough people to carry out the project.